Proceedings of the Regional Workshop on Economic and Social Transformation through Panchayat Development Plans in Indo-Gangetic Plain States held on October 28-29, 2021 at Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh

1. Background

Gram Panchayats have been mandated to prepare Gram Panchayat Development Plan (GPDP) for economic development and social justice as per the Article 243G. The GPDP planning process has to be participatory, comprehensive and need based, which can achieve convergence with schemes of all related Central / State Governments. The Ministry of Panchayati Raj (MoPR) rolled out the People's Plan Campaign for GPDP (Sabki Yojana Sabka Vikas) from 2nd October, 2021 to 31st January 2022. The key activities being carried out as part of this campaign include:

- a) Ranking of all Gram Panchayats based on various socio-economic and infrastructure parameters collected through Mission Antyodaya App and using the data in the planning process.
- b) Participation of frontline workers of line departments related to 29 subjects (listed in the 11th Schedule of the constitution) in the Gram Sabhas and involving SHG women in GPDP planning process
- c) Organizing special structured Gram Sabhas for GPDP preparation (2nd Oct. 2021 to 31st Jan. 2021)
- d) Public disclosure of all schemes, beneficiaries and budget through display of Public Information Board in every Gram Panchayats
- e) Public disclosure of real time information on Campaign related activities across the country, in the dedicated portal (www.gdpd.nic.in)

As part of this campaign, MoPR with the support of NIRD&PR organized series of workshops and trainings to provide handholding support to all stakeholders including States for successful roll-out of the campaign.

The States in the Indo-Gangetic Plain includes Bihar, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal. The representatives from the following organisations and research institutes working in Indo-Gangetic Plain States were also invited for this workshop to share the activities being undertaken in rural areas and also to discuss the opportunities of working with Gram Panchayats in the planning process.

2. The Proceedings

2.1 Inaugural Session

Ministry of Panchayat Raj, Government of India, in association with National Institute of Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, Hyderabad and Department of Panchayat Raj, Government of Madhya Pradesh, Bhopal had jointly organised the workshop on “Economic and Social Transformation through Panchayat Development Plans in Indo-Gangetic Plain States” as part of Peoples’ Plan Campaign, 2021. Elected Representatives, senior officials and Policymakers of PRIs from the Bihar, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal States participated in this workshop.

*Shri Alok Kumar Singh, Director, Panchayati Raj, Madhya Pradesh welcoming
Mrs. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR*

Shri Alok Kumar Singh, Director, Panchayati Raj, Madhya Pradesh giving welcome address

The workshop began with the lighting of the lamp and welcoming the guests with the bouquets. Director, Panchayati Raj Shri Alok Kumar Singh, Director, Panchayati Raj, Madhya Pradesh welcomed all the participants of the Workshop. Addressing to all he mentioned that this is important workshop for the schemes related to rural development and Panchayati Raj. He emphasised that the learning's of this two days' workshop will be beneficial for the all the participants and hope the best practices going to be shared in this workshop will be adopted by all the states in field.

He stressed that the better planning by the elected representatives and officials may change the complete condition of any under developed Panchayats.

*Dr. C Kathiresan, Associate Professor, NIRDPR
briefing about the workshop*

The welcome address of the workshop was followed by briefing of the objectives of the workshop by Dr. C Kathiresan, Associate Professor, NIRDPR.

He mentioned that GPDP campaign which is popularly known as People's Plan campaign started in the year 2018. Since the beginning of the campaign the NIRDPR is providing the handholding supports to the states for the preparation of Gram Panchayat Development Plan. This regional level workshop is part of providing the handholding support to the Indo-Gangetic Plain states. Talking about the objectives of this regional workshop he said that this workshop is mainly going to focus on the economic development of Panchayats as agriculture-based activity is the prime activity of all the states comes under this region. As the planning for each region of the country differs from others hence these workshops are being organized on a regional basis to provide the handholding support. Prior to this regional workshop two workshops have been organized at national level. The first workshop was organized at NIRDPR, Hyderabad for Northern states and the second one at NERC, Guwahati for North Eastern states. The objectives of these regional workshop is not only to give the orientation to the participants about GPDP but also to share the best practices taken up at the national level to all the participating states and also to learn from each other's experiences. The also mentioned that this regional workshop not only provides the opportunity to prepare quality GPDP but it also provides the good opportunity for better networking.

The overview of the workshop was presented by Smt. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, Ministry of Panchayat Raj. She highlighted that this time we are making very deliberate efforts to ensure the participation of the elected representatives of the Panchayats in each the regional workshop scheduled for this year.

She emphasized that the interaction with the elected representatives will not only help us to understand ground reality but it will also give us the opportunity to learn from each others experience.

She mentioned that in the search of employment, better education, better health facilities villagers usually migrates to the urban area although all Panchayats are capable to provide these facilities at village level if proper planning is done at Panchayat level. She expressed hope that the young and experienced elected representatives have the capacity to change the face of rural development and all of this could be achieved by better planning, execution and monitoring. She emphasized that the People's Plan Campaign has already set a milestone for people's participation in planning process, especially last year during the Covid-19 pandemic period. It is worth mentioning that last year 2.56 lakhs villages participated in planning process. Similarly 60 % of block level Panchayats and 50 % District Panchayats also prepared their development plans. She stressed that now the time has come to shift the focus from the numbers to quality planning process. She said that the success of people's plan campaign depends on the participation of the community and joint efforts of line ministries for the convergence of the schemes. She mentioned that the focus area of this year campaign is evidence based planning and we are focusing on Sustainable Development Goals. She requested all the Panchayats to achieve at least one sustainable development goal at their Panchayat level this year. Secondly, she requested to all Panchayats to generate OSR, which has already become mandatory for all Panchayats. Thirdly she requested to prepare the Village Poverty Reduction Plan mandatorily and include it this year GPDP process. Briefing about the expected outcomes of this workshop she said that various digital initiatives which has been taken up by the Govt. will also be shared during this workshop so now the capacity building should not only limit to imparting training but also to search the resource envelopes available to take the required information.

Mrs. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR, GoI addressing to the participants

Shri Sunil Kumar, Secretary, MoPR, in his inaugural address emphasised that Panchayats should have the vision of the developmental changes which they want to see in their Panchayats.

Shri Sunil Kumar, Secretary, MoPR, GoI addressing the participants through VC

The development changes should be planned as per the need of people and all the people from the society like daily wagers, farmers, children, women, youth and elderly people should equally participate in the planning process. The Panchayat should be aware about the source of Income like OSR, Funds from XV Finance commission and centrally sponsored schemes to take up the planning process. The Panchayat should give the priority to ongoing to works instead of starting the planning for new work. He stressed that now the focus of Panchayats should not be quantitative planning but it should be qualitative. Regular monitoring of the work taken up by Panchayats during last year should be done mandatorily. Briefing about the monitoring system of the Govt. he said that from this year the ministry has started the analysis of the data being uploaded on eGram Swaraj portal, regular monitoring of the gaps identify by Mission Antodaya data is also being monitored. He emphasised the participation of functionaries of agriculture department in Gram Sabha for effective preparation of Gram Panchayat Development plan. He requested the officials of District, Block and Panchayat level to continuously monitor the planning process at their level and take up the appropriate corrective measures if required. He stressed that the active participation of line ministries in planning process is very crucial to make the planning process more effective. From this year ministry has taken an initiative to make Gram Sabha more vibrant and as a part of it detailed information about the schemes of different ministries is now being made available on eGram Swaraj portal. The 100% social audit which is mandatory to be conducted at Panchayat level, he requested all the stakeholders of it to perform it without fail. Furthermore he emphasised on the attainment of SDGs at Panchayat level with the support of line departments. He stressed that the outcomes of this workshop will be definitely helpful for implementation of various schemes and also in designing the framework of upcoming GPDP process for next year.

The inaugural address was followed by the release of Training Manual on ‘Participatory Village Development Planning Process’ and Short films on GPDP & OSR (prepared by Govt. of MP) by Secretary, MoPR.

Smt. Shivani Verma, Joint Director, P&RD, Madhya Pradesh proposed vote of thanks.

2.2 Technical Session I: People's Plan Campaign for preparation of Panchayat Development Plans

Smt. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR presented an overview on the People's Plan campaign highlighting the achievements since the campaign began in 2018.

She stated that the planning process of PPC campaign actually started in the year 2014 with the devolution of grants of 14th Finance Commission to Panchayats.

The experience during the last few years has shown that the Gram Panchayat Development Plans are being prepared across the country. The focus should now be on quality of GDPDs rather than quantity. The Unique elements of the campaign are Gram Sabhas, Facilitators, Mission Antyodaya data and the e-Gram Swaraj initiative for uploading the GDPDs.

Smt. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR

The previous campaigns have shown the following key elements:

- In the year 2018, 93 % villages prepared their development plans.
- In the year 2019, Midterm review of plans was taken up at Gram Sabha.
- CB&T activity was included in the year 2019.
- In the year 2020, Planning at District and Block level was got introduced.
- Mandatory addition of OSR was introduced in the year 2020.

The presentation on the overview of PPC highlighted the following points:

- States such as Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, West Bengal and Bihar are conducting more than special Gram Sabha:
- Amongst the line departments only education, women and child Development, Agriculture and Family and welfare departments are participating in Gram Panchayat Plan preparation. There is very less participation by Animal Husbandry & Dairying, Drinking water and sanitation.
- Inclusion of Village Poverty Reduction Plans (VPRP) will be mandatory in preparation of GDPD.
- Major Resource Envelope are available from XVFC, MGNREGA and State Finance Commission. Funds available by flagship schemes and line ministries are missing.
- Less Inclusion of health, Women and Child Development, Education and Water Conservation in GDPD.
- In the current ongoing Gram Sabhas people's participation is only 4.43%. SHGs participation is Gram Sabhas is 92%.
- Out of the total 14,310 Gram Sabhas held across the county so far maximum 62% participation by Education Department only and very less participation by other line departments i.e. Water Resource 2% and New and Renewable Energy Department 1 % respectively only.
- VPRPs should be mandatory discussed more in Gram Sabhas where SHGs are participating.

- Khadi Village and Cottage Industries, Non-Conventional Energy Resources, Agriculture and Animal Husbandry is the prime sectors to be taken up as a Sankalp in GPDP.
- Water Conservation should be given priority in GPDP keeping its scarcity in view.
- Out of 9 line departments only 3-5 departments are participating in GPDP planning process.
- MoPR Interventions like Evidence Based Planning, Self Help Group and Community Mobilization, Sustainable Development Goals and Holistic Planning were briefed in detail.
- Gram Manchitra: Panchayat Development Support System was explained in brief.
- 100% Public Information board should be installed at Panchayat level for better transparency and information.

The second presentation by Shri Vipra Goel, Consultant, MoPR, highlighted the need for Modern IEC activities for Integrated Panchayat Planning.

The 5 principles of PPC to ensure the success of planning are:

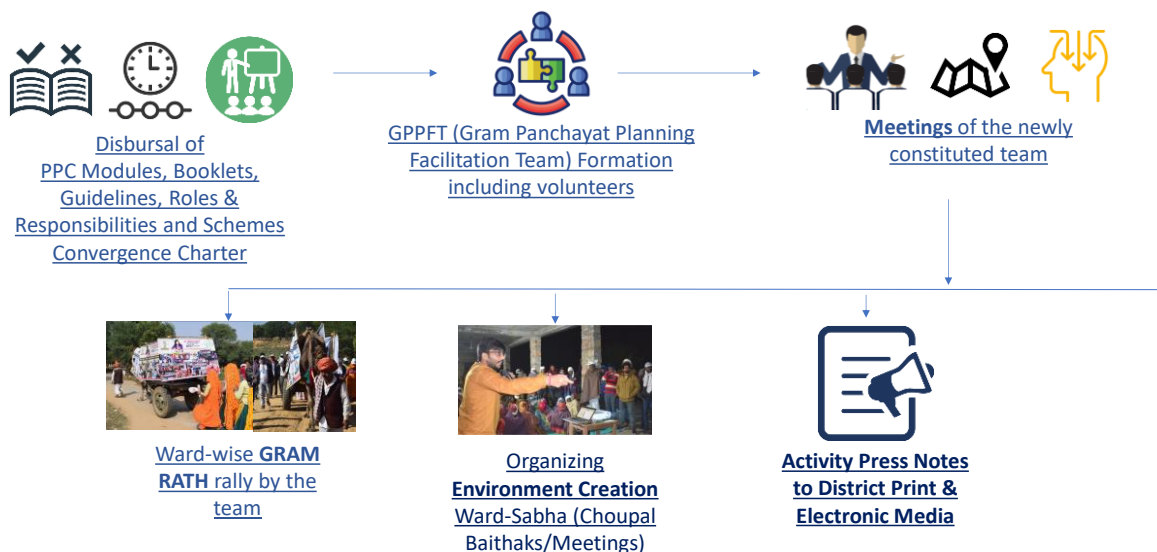

- Impartiality
- Technical Expertise
- Awareness
- Community Involvement
- Vigilance

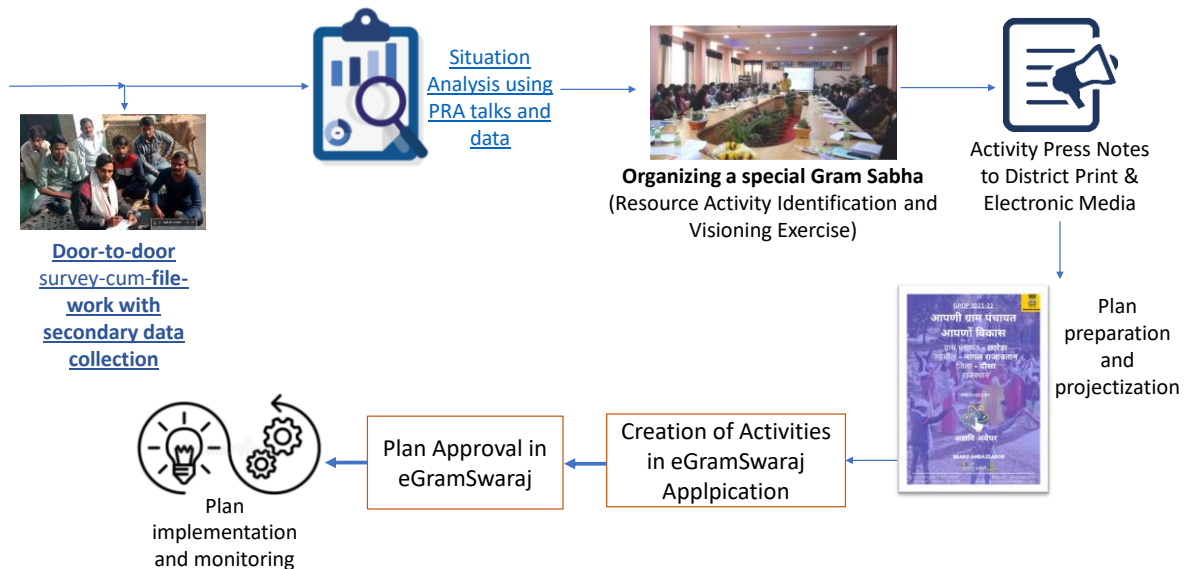

Shri Vipra Goel, Consultant, MoPR

It was emphasised that in order to ensure the above, a modern IEC strategy is required focussing on the following:

Modern IEC Strategy for People’s Plan Campaign (RGSA) | Environment Generation

Model Plan for People's Plan Campaign (RGSA) | GPDP Making

It was emphasised that in order to ensure the above, a modern IEC strategy is required focussing on the following:

The proposed integrated Gram Panchayat Development Plan should identify the needs of the community focussing on micro level strategy that would directly benefit the community. A suitable Model plan for PPC should focus more on two important issues. Firstly, the plan should include e-Modules, Implementation Guidelines, Roles & Responsibilities of different functionaries (frontline workers, facilitators and nodal officers) involved and Schemes Convergence Charter for holistic planning. Secondly the focus should be on distributing them to various functionaries like GP facilitators, line department officials etc. through proper channel on cascading mode. The presentation also highlighted the success of various initiatives in Panchayats across different states.

The Third presentation of the session was presented by Dr. C Kathiresan, Associate Professor, NIRDPR on “Localization of SDGs: Integrating SDGs with GPDP”.

In the presentation he highlighted the fact that Integrating SDGs with GPDP does not require any special planning only integrated approach of planning is required to localize the SDGs through GPDP.

He cited the Niti Ayog report of 2019 on SDGs and explained that how local government can support the achievement of SDG through bottom up approach and how SDGs can provide a framework for local development policy. He stated that the Panchayats have 9 more years to achieve the SDG goals and it could be done only with involvement of all three tier of Panchayati Raj System. He pointed out 10 SDGs which are directly linked with Panchayats and comes under the 29 subjects specified for Panchayats under 11th Schedule. He also listed out the centrally sponsored schemes which are directly linked with Sustainable Development Goals. 9 themes with 150 targets and 300 indicators, which is recommendation of the committee formed for localizing the SDGs was also presented by him.

Localising SDGs in PRIs: Way forward

1. Mapping of identified activities under GPDP/BPDP/DPDP with
 - Schemes / programmes (Central/State) – linking the budget provisions
 - Gap Reports (MA survey & other reports)
 - Relevant Thematic Areas / Targets / Indicators
2. SDG Dashboard – (Indicator - Target – Timeline)
3. Incentivization by Ministries, States, Organisations
4. Convergence (Ministries – States – PRIs)
5. Evidence based Monitoring
6. Capacity Building & Training

He concluded his presentation by mentioning the activities which needs to be taken up to localizing the SDGs through GPDP.

Shri Khushwant Singh Sethi, Joint Secretary, MoPR presented on Making Gram Sabhas Vibrant - Attaining Gram Swaraj. He started his presentation with the quote by Father of the Nation Mahatama Gandhi “The greater the power of the Panchayats the better for the people”.

Afterwards he shared the glance of Panchayat statistics of the country by mentioning the no. of Gram Panchayats, Block Panchayats, District Panchayats and no. of elected representatives of PRIs. Thereafter he talked about the approaches required to be adapted to Strengthening the Rural Local Governance.

Shri Khushwant Singh Sethi, JS, MoPR

- a) Radical approach required
- b) Strengthening rural economy
- c) Intensive implementation of schemes for saturation e.g. Gram Swaraj Abhiyaan
- d) Ensure transparency, efficiency and equity
- e) Strengthen the Gram Sabha as basic unit of rural local governance

He emphasized on the priority areas for Panchayats like Public Health, Poshan and Education and briefed them that what needs to be done at Panchayat level to attain the better result. Later on he pointed out the suggestions made by the MoPR advisory committee to making the Gram Sabhas Vibrant.

To making the Gram Sabhas Vibrant the MoPR advisory committee has suggested the constitution of six sub committees, subject wise role of each sub committees was also explained during the presentation. In the last he pointed out the actions to be taken by States/UTs to upload the data on the dashboard. He also requested the line departments to make the standard presentation of the schemes of their concern department so that it could be presented during the Gram Sabhas either by their own representative or by the moderator of the Gram Sabha.

The next presentation of the session was jointly presented by Shri J.K. Mishra, Technical Director, NIC Delhi and Ms. Karnika Kaushik, Consultant, MoPR on Gram Manchitra Application.

Shri J.K. Mishra, Technical Director,
NIC Delhi

Ms. Karnika Kaushik, Consultant, MoPR

The session was chaired by Smt. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR. Technical Director, NIC Delhi Shri J.K. Mishra, started the session by briefly explaining about Gram Manchitra Spatial Tool for Gram Panchayat Planning. In his presentation he highlighted the overview about the Gram Manchitra, Planning Resources for GPDP and Portal Interface. About the key features of the Gram Manchitra he mentioned that it is Unified Geo Spatial Platform for Gram Panchayats covering 29 sectors; providing a decision support system for GPDP. He explained in brief that how with the help of Gram Manchitra Spatial analysis tools identification of suitable site for creation of new amenities/ infrastructure like hospitals, schools, banks, etc. is possible, more over to it he explained that “Real time” tracking of progress of work undertaken under different schemes is also could be monitored by using the Gram Manchitra Application. To conclude his session he presented the live demonstration of the Gram Manchitra application for the few district amongst the states who were attending the workshop.

Ms. Karnika Kaushik, Consultant, MoPR answered the queries about the geo tagging of the assets. She said at present states are not integrated with the data of NIC, when this integration will take place then there will be no chances of duplicate assets creation.

2.6 Technical Session V: Evidence based Planning and Monitoring of PPC

The need for Evidence based and Data driven Panchayat Planning was highlighted by Dr. Anjan Kumar Bhanja, in his presentation.

The approach for evidence based and data driven Panchayat planning is as follows:

- Evidence based means that the best available data, information and knowledge are used to make decisions.
- Evidence-based planning is harnessing the knowledge gained from data and information and using it to optimize our planning process and improve results.
- Evidence-based planning uses the evidence i.e. data, information and knowledge as the foundation for deciding what should be done.
- There appears information gap between real needs and Panchayat Planning.
- Plans should be prepared using necessary and sufficient data, as evidence of the ground realities and real needs.

*Dr. Anjan Kumar Bhanja,
Associate Professor, NIRDPR*

In order to ensure the above, preparatory steps to be taken and sources of secondary data availability are required for effective preparation of Panchayat plans.

The session was chaired by Shri Khushwant Singh Sethi, Joint Secretary, MoPR.

2.7 Technical Session VI: Convergence of Schemes & Programs with GPDP

The presentation by Ms. Priyanka Gupta, Deputy General Manager, Pension Fund Regulatory & Development Authority (PFRDA), New Delhi highlighted the importance of Atal Pension Yojana (APY) a flagship scheme of Govt. of India.

The scheme was introduced in the year 2015 and it benefits 88 % of Unorganized Sector workforce to lead a dignified life after 60 years. The scheme is divided in to three phases:

- a) Entry/ शामिल होना
- b) Accumulation/ संचयन
- c) Exit/ निकास

*Ms. Priyanka Gupta,
Deputy General Manager,
PFRDA, New Delhi*

She highlighted that now the participation of females is increasing in this scheme and presently 44 beneficiaries of this scheme are women. She shared that PFRDA is planning to cover nearly 7 crore new enrolments under APY, in the next 3 to 5 years. She also mentioned the initiatives like Launching of eAPY platform, APY mobile app, On-boarding using Bank's own web-portal and Social media platforms being taken up by ministry to popularise this scheme. The Gram Panchayats can play a vital role in ensuring comprehensive coverage of the APY scheme hence she stressed the all participating states of the workshop to motivate the people to join this scheme.

*Shri S.R. Meena, Scientist D, Biogas
Technology Development Division, Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, New Delhi*

Shri S.R. Meena, Scientist D, Biogas Technology Development Division, Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, New Delhi started his session by highlighting the importance of Energy for any development activity. He emphasised that it is the target of the ministry to replace the conventional energy source to smart renewable sustainable energy. He said that the biogas is the very economical form of energy which is linked with 9 goals of sustainable Development Goals out of total 17goals.

He highlighted the key features of PM- Kisan Urja Suraksha evam Utthan Mahabhiyaan (PM-KUSUM) Scheme which provide reliable day time solar power to farmers and reduces the carbon footprint and reduction of the burden of subsidy to agriculture sector. He also highlighted the key features of another important scheme “Gobardhan” which is an integral part of Swachh Bharat Mission Phase II under Solid Waste Management. The scheme supports villages to convert bio-waste including cattle waste, kitchen leftovers, crop residue and market waste to biogas and slurry, to improve environmental sanitation and curb vector borne diseases. Under SBM (G) financial assistance of INR 50 Lakh per District is available for setting up of Gobardhan projects. Later on he shared the roles and responsibility of the State, District and Panchayat for effective implementation of the scheme and also he shared the monitoring mechanism constituted at District level to monitor the progress of the scheme. To conclude his session he shared the detail of technological support available at state and district level to implement this scheme.

Dr. Yogesh Kumar, Executive Director, SAMARTHAN–Centre for Development Support, Bhopal shared the experience of his organization for working with Panchayati Raj since 1996.

He said that the convergence is only possible when people starts accepting the changes which any schemes seeks to bring in the field. He emphasised that the objectives of scheme could be attain by the participation of participation of all the stakeholders.

*Dr. Yogesh Kumar, Executive Director,
SAMARTHAN–Centre for Development Support, Bhopal*

Shri Swapnil Dubey, Senior Scientist and Head, ICAR-Raisen, He started his presentation by briefing about the KVK Centers, which are established by Agriculture council of India across the country, at present 721 KVKs have been established. KVKs works as a knowledge and research Center for the farmers.

*Shri Swapnil Dubey,
Senior Scientist and Head, ICAR-Raisen*

He said the KVKs are focusing on the high value crops instead of traditional crops. He recommended Processing and Value Addition of Minor Millets, Bee keeping, Sericulture, Lac Culture, Goat Rearing, Mushroom Production, Production of organic produce to increase the employment and income generation activities. He shared the experience of developing the Nutri-SMART village (NSV) for meeting nutrient requirement for making nutrient sufficient. These Nutri-SMART villages are being developed on the concept of “Grow what you eat and eat what you grow”. In the end he requested all the participants to contact the KVKs of their respective areas for training and technical guidance related to agriculture.

The session was jointly chaired by Shri Khushwant Singh Sethi, Joint Secretary, MoPR and Smt. Rekha Yadav, Joint Secretary, MoPR.

2.8 Technical Session VII: Group Discussion

The session was started with the open discussion about the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Since many of the participants were not aware about these goals hence JS, MoPR decided that few speakers who are already working on SDGs may come forward and then they could start sharing their understanding about SDGs.

Ms. Nikita Khanna, Consultant, Unicef was Invited first to share her understanding on SDGs. She told that these goals are not new; whatever developmental works are already being taken up at Panchayat level comes under any of these total 17 goals.

These 17 goals are set by the member countries of United Nations and all goals are targeted to be achieved by 2030. Further she explained that localization of SGDs is the term which is being used to integrate each goals with our planning process of Panchayat Development Plan so that these targets could be achieved at all three tier of Panchayats.

Ms. Nikita Khanna, Consultant, Unicef

Mr. Pankaj Kumar, Samarthan NGO, Bhopal

Mr. Pankaj Kumar from Samarthan NGO, Bhopal shared his understanding about SDGs. He said that all the 17 sustainable goals could be achieved at panchayat level but the participation of the community and line departments is very essential to achieve them.

The role of Panchayats to achieve these goals was presented in brief. In the last a short video on SDGs was shown to give more understanding about SDGs.

The workshop ended with Valedictory session.
